At last the extended controversy about the paving of Hull street has been decided by the Council and the work will commence in a few days. Already Messrs. Street & Mittenhoff have a quantity of material in readiness to begin work and in a few months the long desired paving will be finished. No doubt this news will be a relief to the many who have been business men on Hull street and the people generally.

The clerk of the Council read a communication from the Board of Trade in reference to the paving of Hull street and the Street Railway Company, which designated the cars upon the side of the cars, was read. A full report of this matter has already been printed in this paper.

It was decided if the report was adopted that the paving of the eight blocks of Hull street should be placed where the Street Railway Company should be.

Mr. Campbell objected to the proposition as it was not exactly what he wanted. He stated that he had been asked to pay for the paving of Hull street and he was satisfied that what the company would put upon the street.

On motion of Mr. Sims, the City Attorney was instructed to make the necessary agreement with the Street Railway Company.

At 9:25 the Council adjourned.

BELIEVES HE WILL BE GOVERNOR.

Major J. Hoge Tyler Said So at Murphy's Hotel Last Night.

Major J. Hoge Tyler, of Radford, Va., a candidate for nomination by the approaching Democratic Convention for the office of Governor of Virginia, arrived at Murphy's Hotel from Norfolk this morning.

All day long Major Tyler received people who called to pay their respects, and a number of local politicians were said to have been in close consultation with him during the day.

Major Tyler was seen by a Times reporter in the office of Murphy's Hotel last night. He declined, with politeness, to say anything regarding the political situation in the State, and only replied to the question whether he expected to receive the nomination being: "I am surprised that such an astute newspaper man as you should ask that question."

"Slowly," he continued, "I have every reason to believe that I will be nominated and elected," and there he stopped to greet some friends who called on him. He declined also to express any preference as to the place for holding the convention. Major Tyler looks very well, and is in fine spirits.

OYSTER NAVY VISITED

BY THE BOARD OF CHESAPEAKE AND ITS TRIBUTARIES.

The Navy Found to be in Better Condition Than Ever Before—The Governor Now at Old Point.

State Treasurer Harmon and wife, and Mr. D. C. Zollieffer returned last night from Old Point, having spent several days with the Board of the Chesapeake and its Tributaries on the trip of inspection.

The Board, with its guests, left Richmond Tuesday afternoon, and spent the night at Old Point, leaving the latter place the following morning, and arriving at Tangier Island about 5 P. M., where the night was passed.

Visited Oyster Vessels.

Tangier Island is a part of Accomac county, and has about 1,000 inhabitants, who live on the fish and oyster industry. The island is about three miles long by one wide.

Thursday the Board visited the oyster-pole schooner Tangier, which carries the Maryland-Virginia line. Captain Murphy has been in command of the schooner for about a year, and under his watchful care there have been very few violations of the law. He proved a most efficient officer, and is a willing and active life, resigned a few days ago, and the Board elected Captain W. E. Parks, of Tangier Island, to succeed him. Captain Parks will enter upon his duties to-day.

The Board then made an inspection of the State steamer Accomac, Captain Zollieffer commanding, and after a very satisfactory trip to Accomac, they returned to the mainland.

THE OYSTER ROCKS.

The party proceeded across the Bay to the Rappahannock river, and inspected the oyster rocks in the river. They were met at Irvington by the Rev. J. E. Newell, who on Thursday took the party to the old Christ church, which the A. P. V. A. has recently made an appropriation to repair. The Board went to Yorktown Thursday night. Yesterday the members visited the ruins of the fort of the historic interest in and around the town.

After an inspection of the oyster-groves, the party proceeded to Old Point.

IN FINE CONDITION.

The oyster navy was found to be in better condition than ever before, and the Board of the Chesapeake and its Tributaries is very satisfied with the results of their trip.
